Jimmy Durante, (by Tim Hansel)

There's a wonderful story about Jimmy Durante, one of the great entertainers whose career spanned five decades (20s -70s).

He was asked to be a part of a show for World War II veterans. He told them his schedule was very busy, and he could afford only a few minutes, but if they wouldn't mind his doing one short monologue and immediately leaving for his next appointment, he would come. Of course, the show's director agreed happily.

But when Jimmy got on stage, something interesting happened. He went through the short monologue and then stayed. The applause grew louder and louder and he kept staying. Pretty soon, he had been on fifteen, twenty, then thirty minutes. Finally, he took a last bow and left the stage.

Backstage someone stopped him and said, "I thought you had to go after a few minutes. What happened?"

Jimmy answered, "I did have to go, but I can show you the reason I stayed. You can see for yourself if you'll look on the front row." In the front row were two men, each of whom had lost an arm in the war. One had lost his right arm, and the other had lost his left. Together, they were able to clap, and that's exactly what they were doing, loudly and cheerfully.

As we start this new year, let us remember that each of us has gifts that can help others, and there are those around us that are ready to help us with their unique gifts. We all have been blessed by God with special abilities that's waiting to be used in a surprising way. So, don't be selfish, picky or just unwilling to share what God has freely given you. Let each of us do our very best to bring joy throughout the year to those in our path.

Go out of your way to bless those you may not like (for whatever reason) this year.

Sheriff Grady Corner

Dear Friend,

As many of you already know, I'm a bit frugal. Making the best use of tax payers' dollars has always been a top priority of mine.

One way we do this at the Sheriff's Office is through the Polk County Jail Inmate Work Program. This is an alternative sentencing program aimed at helping to transform jail inmates convicted of crimes into better citizens through hard work and community service.

Inmates who have committed certain non-violent crimes have the opportunity for a judge to sentence them to the program, giving the inmate the ability to pay their debt to society while saving taxpayers' money by controlling the numbers of inmates in jail. Inmates can work during the week or on the weekend, which allows them to continue to support their families and pay restitution.

Recently, the Inmate Work Program completed 266 projects for the county and cities. Inmates also picked up trash along roadways and cleaned up parks, schools, public facilities, and cemeteries. Inmates collected 13,832 bags of trash, 4,057 discarded tires, and cleaned almost 702 miles of roads.

The inmates worked more than 121,891 hours and ultimately saved taxpayers $1,239,631.47 (calculated at a conservative $10.00 per hour). In addition, the inmates themselves pay to participate in the program, funding the cost of the program.

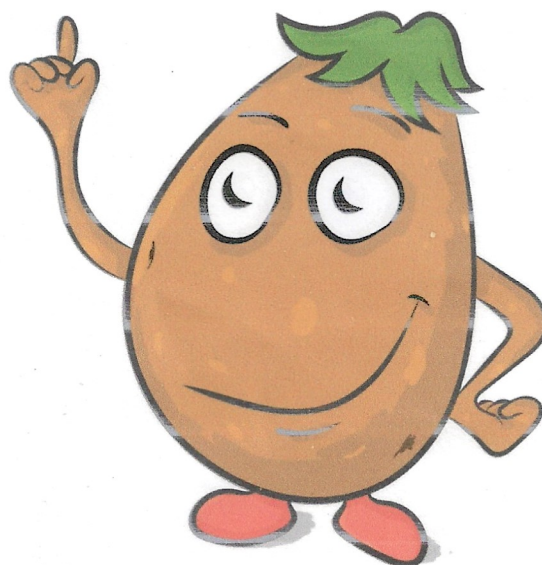

The program is truly a great return on investment; the taxpayers benefit, society benefits from cleaner and more beautiful roads and parks; and hopefully, the men and women in the program will become better stewards in the community and feel proud that their hard work has made Polk County an even better place to live, work, and play.
